3/8" X 6' COPPER BONDED GROUND ROD

Allied Bolt Part # 2130

•Steel core provides driving strength, copper cladding provides conductivity with the soil.

•Steel core is formed from AISI 1035 Steel.

•Copper is electrically bonded to the entire length of the rod. The minimum copper plating thickness is 5 mil. (.005").

•Size of rod and manufacturer's mark are stamped near the end of each rod for easy identification.

•Steel is drawn before plating for strength and consistency. Rod ends are chamfer to prevent "mushrooming" while driving and allows ground clamp to be slipped over rod after installation.
